Nice village house close to the beach

Stay in your own boulder townhouse in the most romantic little medieval town, with town-walls, which in the past protected the town from attack, just 15 minutes from one of the sandy Costa Brava beaches. Alternatively you can drive the winding coastal road and find your own private rocky beach, among other things, excellent snorkelling opportunities.

The town is peaceful and pleasant and the location is perfect for exploring the Costa Brava region, which contains much more than the famous and very touristy coastal towns. By the coast you find plenty of unspoilt oases, and the area offers everything in gastronomy, wine, golf and much more.

Josep has a lot of bikes, including kids bikes and bikes with child seats and bicycle helmets. The bikes are free to use during your stay. In the area, there are indicated bicycle routes.

Ferieboligen are three beautiful identical and completely newly renovated village houses .All houses has three floors.

At the ground floor, there is a small garden with terrace, kitchen with dishwasher, dining area with a beautiful dining table sofa corner with fireplace, television and DVD, a small laundry room with washer and dryer, and a bathroom.

At first floor, there are two double rooms with double beds and a room with a bunk bed. There are also two bathrooms.

At the second floor, one of the houses a double room and a small living room with sliding wall and a terrace with views. In the other two houses the second floor is a loft, also with two beds and access to terrace, which in turn is slightly larger.

The owners' good restaurant is located 100 meters away, and its authentic Catalan country kitchen with an extra touch of quality combined with reasonable prices, has given it a very good reputation all the way to Barcelona. We have tried it ourselves, and the food is really worth the trip!
